

PRESS RELEASE 24 October 2024

Corem signs five-year lease with Mycronic for approximately 6,000 sq.m. in Kista

Corem has signed a five-year lease agreement with the Swedish technology company Mycronic for 6,038 square meters in the property Helgafjäll 5 in Kista north of Stockholm city. The property is located in central Kista by the square next to the Kista fair.

Mycronic, which has its operations in Täby, north of Stockholm, now also sets up operations in Kista as they relocate their High Flex division to the area. The new premises, which will house offices, warehouses and production, are adapted to support the business. At the same time, the building gets an exterior lift. Access is planned for the third quarter of 2025.

"We are very happy to welcome Mycronic to Corem and to Kista, where we are now creating the conditions for a long and successful collaboration. Mycronic will also be a nice addition to the exciting mix of businesses on the site," said Rutger Arnhult, CEO at Corem.

Newsec has acted as advisor to Mycronic in the deal.

About Kista, Stockholm North

Kista is located in northern Stockholm. With its unique communication location with proximity to Stockholm city, Arlanda airport and direct access to the E4 and E18 highways, it offers excellent conditions for both local and international operations. Kista also offers well-developed public transport with subway, commuter train and, within a few years, the cross-railway. Here, large established companies sit side by side with new tech companies. This makes Kista one of the world's leading clusters for technology and telecom companies and one of Sweden's most innovative locations.
